about eureka software

Parallel with the emergence of the personal computer in the early 1980s, the company broke ground as a small research and development firm focusing on telecommunications and software. eureka software's commitment to the innovative use of leading-edge technology enabled the company to evolve and grow.

Our mission is to develop and produce successful multimedia product solutions and services while cultivating a genuine rapport with our clients. We work closely with our clients to ensure that effective and efficient solutions are developed to meet their specific needs. Because it is important to us that we consistently provide our client community with quality service and excellent products, we pride ourselves in nurturing excellent relationships with all of our clients on a personal and professional level.

Multimedia communications is a system of electronic business solutions that can cross-purpose content utilizing electronic publishing (e-publishing) technologies such as: web sites, CDs, PDFs, printed publications, kiosks or knowledge management systems (databases). For example, a document produced in PDF (portable document format) that is interactive (linked through the table of contents and the bookmarks) can be published to the web, CD, or print. Documents, slide shows, and video incorporated into an interactive kiosk can be cross-purposed on CD and the web. Database information can be generated on a web site. Cross-purposing is what multimedia is all about.

experience is essential

One of the most distinguishing characteristics of eureka software is ingenuity. Innovative use of leading edge multimedia technologies and a tenacious attention to detail means eureka software consistently produces products which exhibit inventiveness and integrity. Our experience across a variety of projects provides expert and comprehensive e-solutions for any industry.

energy services

Many of our projects relate to the energy industry and in large part hydro relicensing. The relicensing process can be a complex set of e-solutions including development of a website, e-publishing to the web, CD and print, and creation of an extensive compliance management (CM) solution. CM can be integrated into an existing system or custom designed for a project's unique needs.

Similar technology can be adapted for use in any energy-related project from licensing a new facility to creating an electronic bill-pay system for an existing utility. eureka software also has the essential experience for all facets of the hydro relicensing process from concept through compliance management.

compliance management solutions

Organization of and access to compliance information is critical to fulfilling business goals. A good CM solution can provide structure and access to crucial compliance materials across a variety of platforms. eureka software has the essential experience to design, integrate, and implement CM solutions using tools such as ES Compliance Tracker software and current project management technology.

e-commerce & banking

Having designed and produced both e-banking and retail storefront sites, eureka software understands the requirements of the secure commerce web site. Our team can custom-design a unique and inviting storefront or banking site using secure server technology to insure clients and customers can conduct worry-free internet business.

Whether the scope of a project is large or small, we deliver high quality products and services on time and within budget!
